Word from the President

As we mentioned above, we recently updated our Demartek Storage Interface Comparison reference page. It provides information on interfaces used in computer storage devices including Ethernet, Fibre Channel, FCoE, Infiniband, iSCSI, NVMe, PCI Express, SAS, SATA, Thunderbolt and USB. This page includes history and roadmaps, comments on data transfer rates, cabling and connectors and more. There is also a downloadable, interactive PDF version of this content.

I'm interested in your comments on the content of this page, especially if there are topics that you believe should be added. Drop me a line by replying to this email.
